Dear Mr./Mrs. Bear/Sheno,

Congratulations! Christina Bear, has won 1st place for the State of Colorado in the Radon Poster Contest. Considering the number of entries we received this year and the high quality of those entries, Christina should be very proud of this achievement.

The Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment also thanks you for participating in this effort and encouraging Christina to learn more about radon through the Radon Poster Contest.

The first place winner for every state, territory, and tribal nation, for both the hand-drawn and computer-generated categories, will have their posters placed on the National Safety Council's website at <http://www.nsc.org/issues/radon/>. Christina's poster will also be posted on the Colorado Radon Webpage for 2008 at www.coloradoradon.info.

Christina's poster was entered into the 2008 National Radon Poster Contest, unfortunately, her poster was not chosen as one of the top three.

Sincerely,

Chrystine Kelley
